

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F Van Hare

Pedirhythm - February 2017

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George Van Hare

Also Known As:	"Van"
Birthdate:	September 15, 1815
Birthplace:	Riccall, Yorkshire, Britain (UK)
Death:	Died February 1896 in London, St. George Hanover Square, Britain (UK)
Immediate Family:	Son of George Hare and Ann Bulmer Hare Husband of Catherine Ann Van Hare (Davey) Father of George Frederick Van Hare and Kitty Eugenie Wakefield Brother of Mary Hare ; Christopher Hare and Ann Hare
Occupation:	Circus Showman (and self-proclaimed Naturalist)
Managed by:	John James Van Hare
Last Updated:	February 12, 2015

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George Hare

Birthdate: March 11, 1777
Death: Died in Selby, North Yorkshire, UK
Immediate Family: Son of Edward Hare
Husband of Ann Bulmer Hare
Father of Mary Hare; George Van Hare; Christopher Hare and Ann Hare
Brother of John Hare; Edward Hare; Thomas Hare; Robert Hare; William Hare and 1 other Occupation: Blacksmith

Ann Bulmer

Birthdate: April 11, 1778
Birthplace: Riccall, North Yorkshire, UK
Death: Died 1845 in Riccall, North Yorkshire, UK
Immediate Family: Wife of George Hare
Mother of Mary Hare; George Van Hare; Christopher Hare and Ann Hare

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F. Van Hare, MD

Louis Larrick Ward Professor, Pediatrics

Director, David Goldring Division of Pediatric Cardiology

Co-director, St Louis Children's and Washington University Heart Center

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F. Van Hare, MD

Louis Larrick Ward Professor, Pediatrics

Director, David Goldring Division of Pediatric Cardiology

Co-director, St Louis Children's and Washington University Heart Center

Specialty Areas

Pediatric Cardiology

Arrhythmia - Pediatric

Board Certifications

Pediatrics

Pediatric Cardiology

Areas of Clinical Interest

Heart rhythm disorders in children, and in adults with congenital heart disease; radiofrequency catheter ablation, cryoablation, pacemaker, implantable cardioverter-defibrillator, (ICD), implantation and follow-up.

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F. Van Hare, MD

Louis Larrick Ward Professor, Pediatrics

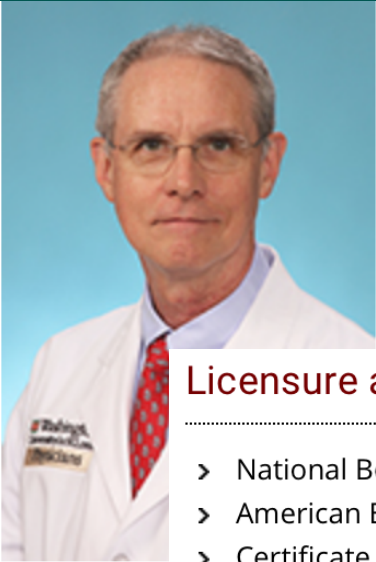

Director, David Goldring Division of Pediatric Cardiology

Co-director, St Louis Children's and Washington University Heart Center

Areas of Research Interest

Multicenter clinical research in pediatric heart rhythm disorders; biology of atrioventricular node reentry; mapping and ablation of post-operative atrial and ventricular tachycardia.

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F. Van Hare, MD

Louis Larrick Ward Professor, Pediatrics

Director, David Goldring Division of Pediatric Cardiology

Co-director, St Louis Children's and Washington University Heart Center

Licensure and Board Certification

- › National Board of Medical Examiners, #229416, 1981
- › American Board of Pediatrics, #34706, 1986
- › Certificate #128890 Fluoroscopy Supervisor, Radiologic Health Branch exp 2/29/2012, 1986
- › MO, DEA, 1986
- › American Board of Pediatrics, Pediatric Cardiology Subsection recertification (participating in Maintenance of Certification), 1988
- › International Board of Heart Rhythm Examiners (IBHRE) Pacing (MD), 2005
- › MO, BNDD, 2008
- › Medicare UPIN #E71269, 2008
- › National Provider Identification #1790707735, 2008
- › MO, Missouri State Board of Registration for the Healing Arts, 2008
- › IL, Illinois Division of Professional Regulation, 2010
- › International Board of Heart Rhythm Examiners (IBHRE) Physician Electrophysiology (Pediatric-Founder), 2013
- › American Board of Internal Medicine: Adult Congenital Heart Disease, 2015

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F. Van Hare, MD

Louis Larrick Ward Professor, Pediatrics

Director, David Goldring Division of Pediatric Cardiology

Co-director, St Louis Children's and Washington University Heart Center

Honors

- Charles A. Dana Scholar, Bates College, 1973
- Phi Beta Kappa, 1980
- Postdoctoral Award for Excellence in Teaching, Department of Pediatrics, UCSF, 1988
- Fellow of the American College of Cardiology (FACC), 1991
- Fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics (FAAP), 1999
- Fellow of the Heart Rhythm Society (FHRs), 2006

The History of the Field of Pediatric Electrophysiology

George F Van Hare III

Pedirhythm - February 2017